The Identity of the Sunken Steamship Ascertained.

Fifty-four Lives Reported to be Lost by the Collision.

She Carried No Passengers, and Plied Between Liverpool and London.

ISPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD. London, Feb. 7 .- The steamer sunk in collision Monday night was the Glencoe, belonging to the Glencoe line, of Glasgow. This has been learned beyond a doubt.

The Glencoe was bound from Liverpool to London. Her crew consisted of fifty-four men. She had no passengers. Monday the last report was received of her. She was then passing Prawle Point.

The Glencoe was a three-masted, iron screw vessel, of 1,901 tons. She was built at Glasgow in 1878, and was owned by Mc-Gregor, Gow & Co. Her rating was 100 A 1 at the British Lloyds.

Details of the Glencoe-Largo Bay collision are arriving.

The vessels struck so forcibly that the Largo Bay's foremast was torn down and crushed through the deck-house. A tempest was raging. The snow was fall ing thickly. The lookout on either vessel could not see the lights of the one approaching until a collision was inevitable.

The Glencoe tried to cross the Largo Bay's bow. Failing, she struck the bark while going at full speed.

The water-tight sections of the Largo Bay saved her from going down.

The suddenness of the shock dazed the crew of the bark. They saw nothing further of the steamer, but could make out her crew struggling in the ater, It was impossible, however, to render any assistance, all of the Largo Bay's boats being smashed.

The wind blew with such force that the sails of the bark were torn in shreds and a boy was carried overboard.

The bark weathered the storm until rescued and towed into Cowes. Latest reports say that the crew of the Glencoe numbered fifty-two men, including twenty-three Chinamen.

Can't Pass the Shoals.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] CHATHAM, Mass., Feb. 7.-Nothing passed over the shoals yesterday except the steamer rman Winter and one large three-masted schooner. The latter was obliged to return for an anchorage as a fierce northwest gale pre-valled. The weather is very cold. The barges and schooners anchored in Chatham Bay are iding hard with a rough sea. No sailing vessels ave passed north since Sunday.

The complaint alleges that she gave birth to twins on Christmas Day. They died a few hours after birth.

Early in November, according to her story, she brought Abraham up in a police court, and as a result he was ordered to pay $25 expenses and $2 a week.

On Jan. 23, through her counsel, Leon Lewin, she brought suit for damages for breach of promise. A warrant was put in the hands of a deputy sheriff and Abraham was arrested and put in Ludlow Street Jail.

His lawyer, William A. Keeler, brought the case up before Judge Nehrbas, in the City Court yesterday, and made a motion to vacate the order of arrest or reduce the amount of bail.

BAD OPINION OF BOSTONIANS. Godfrey, the Colored Man, Will Fight No.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. 1 Boston, Feb. 7. - George Godfrey, the colored heavy-weight, has formed a very unfavorable pinion of sporting Bostonians since his recent drawn glove contest with Joe Lannon. To put it mildly, George has convinced him-self and not a few of his admirers that a man of his race cannot get a fair show to win in a boxing match with a white opponent in this boxing match with a white opponent in this city.

It took Godfrey but three minutes last night to tell his views on matters uppermost in his mind to The Eveniso World man.

'You ask me if I would fight Jack Wannop for a $500 purse?' Godfrey began, repeating the question addressed to himself.

'No, I wouldn't fight Wannop hor anybody else in Boston for $500 or $5,000,000.

'My experience with Lannon Monday night proved to my satisfaction that I never could get a decision over a white man before such a crowd as was at that show, and you can bet that I'll never try again.

'I've quit the business. No, sir, I won't fight any more in this city, and you can put that just as strong as you like.' They Will Wrestle To-Morrow for $1,000 Boston, Feb. 7. - Capt. J. C. Daly, "The Irish Giant," who is to wrestle Duncan C. Ross at the Howard Athenseum to-morrow afternoon for $1,000 a side, arrived in Boston last Tuesday. It is almost ten years since Capt. Daly last appeared in a contest of any kind in this city. Daly was then considered one of the best wrestlers and all-round athletes in the country, and he is not supposed to have "gone back" on his form of those days.

He is in fine physical condition. Ross has been doing steady work for the past fortnight in anticipation of a struggle. The match is catchas-catch-can, the style in which both men excel.

-Weir and Murphy Matched.

(SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.)
BOSTON, Feb., 7. -A match is talked of between Ike Weir and Frank Murphy. A purse has been raised for them by a number of gentlemen. Both men are agreed. The only thing to be done now is to fix the date of the contest.
